

January 2010 Newsletter

Dear friends from the big underwear tour.

It is now January and so we are going to send you our January Newsletter.

After all the excitement that happened in November and December, everything slowed down a little.

At the same time a lot of people are working on the tour quietly and patiently and constantly.

Like you!

Isabel, a member of the Rodara group, is working on the money issue.

Brady is welding the water-tank bracket together.

James studies to become a nurse and put the film together from our visit in Puebla and to get it on the website.

Irmi is doing her best to keep in shape for the coming summer and the tour.

So we all do separate things which become one, when the tour starts.

What we want to say is:

Everyone of you is doing what you are doing and it is the only, and sometimes lonely, way to get to your goal.. that will be death at the final end.

You do it for yourself , your family, your bank account, for your mother, for pleasure, for god or for a dream.

It is in Your power of Your big underwear to change that and make the move and take the time out of your busy live and have a closer look at "The Big Underwear Social Tour".

Imagine how it would be to hang out with your friends in a tour bus on the roads to Panama, traveling from little towns to big cities, from festivals into jungles, sitting around the campfire playing music, pushing the bus out of mud holes, killing a boa constrictor for dinner, and drinking water out of a lotus leave.....

Three months of adventure.

-Irmi-

I have traveled fairly extensively in my life- both with friends and on my own. I draw from those experiences to embark upon a new adventure; a new journey. As the start of the tour draws closer, I'm happy to see my dream developing into a reality, and excited to share new relationships, perform great shows, and experience new cultures with all of you.

Although many of you will not be able to physically join this tour due to your mortgages, families, or disinterest, we still invite you to join in the IDEA of what we are trying to achieve, and ask you to participate by joining in the dialog surrounding the tour.

We haven't heard form many people regarding their impressions of what we are trying to do. If we have contacted you, we feel that you play a role- big or small- in the success of this project. We value the input you can provide, and want you to speak up.

Tell us what your experiences have been. Consider this an open letter and initiation of a conversation of what inspires you, what drives you, and what possibilities can arise from projects such as The Big Underwear Social Tour.

-Brady-

Hello everyone,
I've been trying to focus more on the Documentary and the supplies I will be needing in the filming process. I've decided to sell my camera in order to purchase a a solid state camera- if anyone is interested in a Canon XH-A1, please contact James at:
James\_Sibelle@yahoo.com

I'm also talking with a non-profit who may be able to allow me to use their non-profit tax number for tax deductible donations.
-James-

Don't forget to visit the website:

www.Big-Underwear-Social-Tour.com

You can donate right from the site by clicking on the donate button under the Donate tab. It's through Paypal so you can use you credit card or debit card. Any contribution is greatly appreciated!!!!

In other news, the water tank is almost in- probably tomorrow it will be installed..... or maybe the day after that.....

The water tank will most likely be completely installed sometime next week..... or month.....

If you are interested in having a link to your website put on our website, please send an email to Brady or Irmi and we can direct our internet traffic to your site, and we want you to link to our site.

