1. Plendelhof, preparing for the upcoming days
2. Driving to Schutterf/Nordhorn
3. Doing bank business and changing money
4. Nordhorn, Staunt, und Lacht, Bobarino works, Fraulein Dopp not
5. Nordhorn, Staunt, und Lacht, Bobarino works, Fraulein Dopp does not, but sold two T-shirts. Driving late to Paderborn for the Performing Artists Fair
6. Setting up the Donation Flea-Market around the yellow van, show the B.U.S.T. T-shirts. Meeting friends, selling things and T-shirts, making coffee, visiting the toilet at the Artists Fair, breath....
7. Rain clouds are showing up, we cover the Flea-Market, sell stuff, talk, have coffee, sell T-Shirts, and make new friends, loose some friends (not really), drink Champagne, say good night and sleep.
8. Still rain around, start packing, last sales, last talks, final goodbye, start driving to Plendelhof. We made 315 Euro on donations from our flea-market and 520 Euro from the T-shirts.
9. Unpack and store everything. Pack for our trip back to Oregon.
10. Unpack and store more around the circus van, make it winter-weather safe, turn the Sauna on and relax.
11. Doing this and that
12. Everything ready to leave our summer home, a last goodbye, a lecker dinner with the Plendelhof(er)innen. Driving to Schutterf.
13. Visiting Heinz, paying the last bills, driving to the winter storage place and start packing and unpacking again, park the vans, stay at Bertold and Martina Bartel over night. (Danke Shon an Euchel Beide)
14. Bertold gives us a ride to the train station, Danke Bertold, we go to Amsterdam, to Michail and Malke to stay overnight and have a lecker dinner with them and Dino Lampa who is also visiting
15. Get up at 6:00am, Michail gave us a ride to the station (Danke well, Michail), arriving at Shippol airport, Irmie flies first, BRady later.
16. Portland, Oregon. Sharron, Brady's mom, pics Irmie up at 12:00 pm and then drives back in at 9:40pm to pick Brady up (Danke Sharron)
17. Wake up early and start unpacking the bus and repacking it with the things we will really need on the tour.
18. A little bit of this, a little bit of that....
19. A little bit of that, a little bit of this....
20. Waiting for Monday....
21. The bus is legal no, with all papers and license plates. Drive to the school bus workshop, there is Neil and Val waiting to do the oil change, lubricate the joints, be optimistic. Back to packing and fixing things around the bus and Brady's mother's house
22. Neil drives up the driveway and saves the day. Neil gets all of the electrical in working order, and all with a smile.

23. Neil comes again and shows us all the hidden magic places in the bus and fixes more, makings easler and more practical.
23. Drove to Sweet Home and brought a lawn mower to Garry and Tammy, they are friends of the family and bought 2 T-shirts, thank you. On the way back we visited the juggling convention in Portland. Rees, Flying Bob, and Stevie G all bought T-shirts, than you.
24. Rainy day, got two more tents at the second hand store
25. Happy and John came and helped to weld a protection sheet for the Water tank underneath the bus. NEIL came and fixed all the headlights. BRady's mom drove the Choo-choo train at the Zoo. Irmie sold 2 T-shirt at the juggling Convention
26. Sunday was gray but warm and we made 5 shelves around the bus.
27. Monday was sunny, a great applesauce making day, Brady helped his mom kill wasps and cleaning up around the house.

Dear People of the Big Underwear Social Tour (B.U.S.T.):

On Oct. 8th Irm, James, and I will drive the Bus and Minnie winnie away from my Mothers embracing home in Warren, Oregon. To say we are excited is an understatement, because we are really, really, excited.

In the Beginning of September we renegaded the big artist and organizer event in Padderborn Germany. We showed up completely unannounced and successfully sold our wares flea-market style and even sold a number of our ever popular Big Underwear Social Tour T-Shirts. We are back in Oregon now, and at the end of sept we attended the Portland Juggling Convention, where we also showed up completely unannounced, and we were able to sell some t-shirts and inform some new folks about this projekt.

At both the Portland Juggling Convention and the Padderborn event, and not to mention all the other times throughout the summer, we lived within the borders of a true grass roots organization and we found contentment.

Now we will celebrate the final arrival of the beginning of this Big Underwear adventure of a lifetime. and though I have attested to the fact that this will be really, really exciting, it will also be somewhat monotonous, I mean, all that driving, to just arrive at the next beginning. Hmmm!!!

Hello everyone,

I wanted to start out by thanking Pashanta for sending a big box of medical supplies that would have been difficult to procure otherwise.

Pashanta, thank you very much for finding a way to support this tour.

I've sold my canon-xh a1 camera and picked up a sony HXR-mc50u SDHC camera which will save big bucks on tape and be easier to share footage with Ralf, the German filmmmer who will join with the tour with his wife and daughter for 2 months. In the next few days I will purchase a couple 1TB external hard drives to store all the great footage we will capture. I am keeping some PayPal accounts active for anyone who feels compelled to donate anytime over the next few months. It has taken a lot to get the tour to where it is today, and we will still need your support down the road.

On October 2nd we are hosting a farewell-potluck-show party and hope to see those of you who are able to come out and have a good time. I'll be selling up a camera for photos, which I'll include in the next newsletter, and I'm hoping to get a podcast going. If you are a technologically savvy person who might have some pointers on how to start a podcast, or know of a good website that can aid me in getting a podcast online, please feel free to email me:

James_Sibelle@yahoo.com

Thanks for reading all these newsletters everyone.

Just over one more week then we're off!!!!

-James

If you are interested in purchasing a T-Shirt, you can purchase via Paypal. The T-Shirts cost $25 and a shipping rate of $6 for US mail or $12 for international orders. Make a payment to Bradybehave@yahoo.com through the paypal website. Be sure to add shipping costs, the size shirt you want, and where to send it!!!!
